MARINE CAREERS

Introduction to this Course

Marine Careers is designed to look at what it takes to work in the marine field. This course uses interactive teaching methods to excite learners through a variety of senses, including a presentation and back of house tours. This course also includes an Aquarium guiding and Dolphin show. All material is linked to the CAPS curriculum and interlinks with conservation messages.

Conservation messages:

- Litter is harmful to animals and restricts their movement.
- Litter is not natural
- Plastics don't litter – people do
- Care enough for us and the ocean
- Litter goes in the bin
